I, Michelle Mezaris, being first duly sworn, hereby (name & number you can be reached)

state that upon inquiry and representation the following:

1) On the 12 day of July, 2008 at 1 PM time, I was approached by a person circulating a petition to place a referendum to overturn new regulations on the payday lending industry on the November 2008 ballot. House Bill 545 is the legislation that passed as a result of the efforts of the Ohio Coalition for Responsible Lending. The encounter occurred at Polsky Building at University of Akron
(describe the location)

2) The petition circulator identified himself as none given

(name)

and provided me with the following telephone number: none given

The name of the solicitor's employer was: none given

The employer's address was none given

3) The solicitor circulating the petition characterized the petition summary as follows:
The young man asked if I was aware of the new payday loan legislation. I said yes. He then told me that I needed to sign the petition (including address and phone) in order to be able to vote on this issue in Nov. He said that I declined, I could not vote. I reviewed the petition which was very vague and did not mention who was needing the signatures. I explained that he was not being truthful and refused to sign it.
